Coming in September 2025!

Steve Wren has been teaching drums and guitar to children for over 25 years and teaching at Bishop Chavasse under the name Drummers and Strummers for the past two years.

A professional drummer, founding band member, and international session musician, Steve brings real-world music industry experience into every lesson.

From September Steve will be teaching and mentoring bands at Bishop Chavasse.

Steve has a proven talent for pairing players and singers to form dynamic bands. One of his student groups even won first place in New Zealand's national Battle of the Bands competition!

What truly sets Steve apart is his:

- ability to see and listen to each child.
- understanding that children need to feel a clear sense of progress – so he teaches in small groups of up to five.
- plans to deliver fantastic performance opportunities for all bands.

"Everyone you teach knows that you are an awesome man with a great sense of humour. I absolutely love music and it's all because of you!" (year 6 student).

Each band will typically be made up as follows: drums, bass, guitar, keyboard, and vocals.

Sometimes children want to be in a guitar band - Steve responds to what works best for the children.
